Art Unit: 3751

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Leimer. Leimer discloses a valve stem seal including a retainer 24, a retainer step 20, a seal 16, a first lip 13, a second lip 19 which seals against a chamfer on the valve guide 21 as shown in the figures, wherein step 20 is positioned immediately above lip 19 and thereby will exert a compression force against the lip as claimed.

4. Claims 4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leimer in view of Hegemier. Leimer discloses a valve stem seal substantially as claimed but does not disclose bonding the seal. However, Hegemier teaches another valve stem seal having the seal bonded to the retainer for the purpose of ensuring that the seal remains in place on the valve stem. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to bond the seal of Leimer to the retainer as, for example, taught by Hegemier in order to ensure that the seal remains in place on the valve stem.
